The driving principle is an understanding that in a true emergency, 911 and other formal emergency response teams will be overwhelmed with calls and demands and will be unable to respond to all needs, despite their best efforts. Neighbors will need to be organized to step in and help one another in these situations. A recent change for MYN and SNCU is that they have been brought under the umbrella of the Gravenstein Health Action Coalition, supported by a grant from the City to GHAC. This liaison role has a community outreach aspect to it, and also involves a fairly substantial opportunity to become more informed and educated about emergency response efforts both locally and County-wide. The basic building blocks for working together <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Take care of your loved ones• Dress for safety• Hard hat, leather gloves, sturdy shoes, headlamp• Check the natural (propane) gas at your home• Turn off only if necessary• Place HELP or OK sign somewhere visible from the street• Each neighborhood chooses location• Go to the Neighborhood Gathering Site• Key to begin working together• Form Teams and follow protocols• Organized according to your neighborhood plan• Use Sonoma County Sheriff Evacuation Tags• If appropriate for your rural neighborhood• Return to Neighborhood Gathering Site• Keeping all informed as to neighborhood status

3	Homeless Coalition Board Elections Voting membership of the CoC, now Homeless Coalition, allows for one vote per organization during the annual Homeless Coalition Board elections in December. Each org. gets one vote in the elections for the seats that are elected by the membership (these terms rotate every other year but are for Homeless Advocacy, service provider, TAY lived experience, licensed health care, and at large seats). The Sebastopol City Manager is listed as the point of contact for voting, but each year prior to elections, the contact is asked if the City will be submitting a vote, and who will be the designated voter. This is confirmed each year, so a different person could vote each year or it could be the same person.	Councilmember Zollman	Mayor McLewis

8	Sebastopol Commons Committee (Formerly Library Ad Hoc Committee) Approved July 15th CC Meeting for committee (Currently has two councilmembers appointed to committee) What: “Building the Commons” is a community development project to be located within Sebastopol city limits and inclusive of Sonoma’s West County residents. The Commons will be a centralized hub that blends civic, economic, cultural and social resources to foster engagement and economic vitality. How: A Committee made up of Sebastopol and West County community members will explore a range of options for new development or revitalization of existing structures, and will gather community input from the region to inform planning and goal development. Why: Sebastopol plays a central role in West County civic, economic, cultural and social activities. Currently, government and leading community organizations occupy a variety of buildings and locations throughout the larger Sebastopol area. Each independent entity is experiencing a mix of successes and challenges. 	both the Sebastopol and West County communities that currently access its resources, and the Sebastopol Senior Center is in need of more space to serve a growing population of seniors with an increasingly varied range of services. This committee is envisioning an inclusive, and multi-functional hub that can bring services and resources to Sebastopol and West County citizens, while also supporting community-building and civic participation. This hub will complement a sustainable, walkable and future-focused community plan that addresses the needs of multiple constituents. When: The Building the Commons Committee was appointed by Sebastopol’s City Council to give actionable definition to The Commons concept. By Q3 2026, we will identify and assess potential leading occupants, their specific needs, places to locate The Commons, estimated costs, and funding sources. The Committee began discussions in September of 2025, and will continue through August, 2026. All meetings are open to the public and agendas are posted online. The Committee will deliver a first progress report to the Sebastopol City Council in January.
