Subject: Re: A&M's Smoke

According to public sources, A&M isn't even open today and both smokers are going full tilt.

If it is for offsite catering, it seems like the smoking could be done offsite as previous.

This is really a bad situation and it is going to get hot soon, with fire season approaching.

This morning the smoke from A&M BBQ has been heavy.

The attached is form the Purple Air sensor at my back door approximately 50 yards from A&M's smokers.
